THE TURMERIX JOURNEY

The TurmeriX story began when founder, Errol McClelland, was doing extensive research to assist with this mobility after receiving ankle surgery, 3 years prior, and discovered the healing properties of turmeric

That research led to the birth of TurmeriX, using the highest-grade turmeric, combined with the correct activators, not only brought relief in just days, but inspired Errol to develop the TurmeriX range of products which, after just five years, are available in major markets globally.

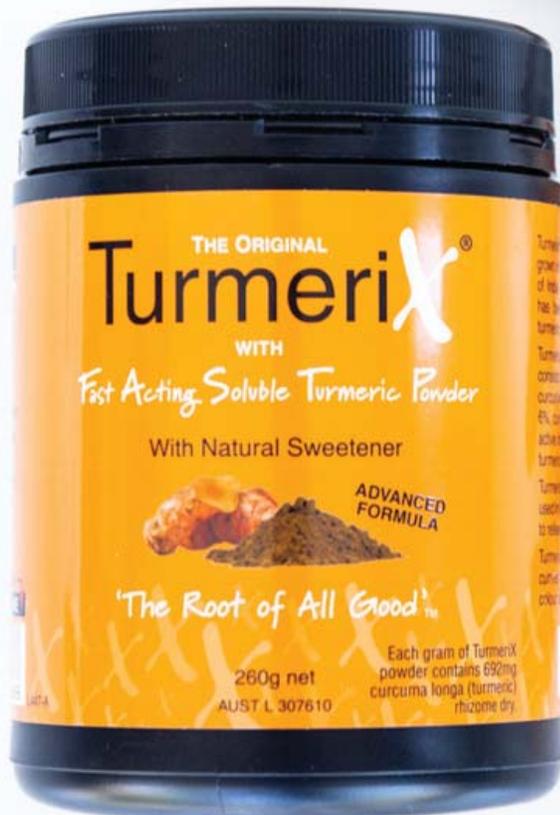

A NATURAL WONDER SPICE

The awareness and adoption of natural remedies has been growing rapidly in the western world for several decades, being viewed as a safe, effective alternatives to modern drugs.

Turmeric, which has been a staple of Ayurvedic medicine for over 3000 years, and more recently adopted as part of Western Herbal medicine, would be described as a wonder drug if it were developed by one of today's leading drug companies.

It is traditionally used to relieve inflammation, symptoms of indigestion, whilst supporting healthy digestion and protecting the liver.

As a daily dietary supplement, turmeric is a powerful antioxidant. It boosts the immune system, improves brain function, digestion and contributes to overall well-being.
